HIBISCUS ON DISPLAY (Photo at right)

Pat Siu displays a hybrid hibiscus collection. Hundreds like it were featured in the show sponsored by the Department of Parks and Recreation and Hawaii Hibiscus Society, held at the Ala Moana Children's Center recently. The photo was supplied by Mr. Fortunato Teho, an Extension Agent for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Hawaii.

-oOo-

CONTEST WINNERS

The winners in the shirt, shift and skirt contest were hard to pick. Jim Wallace of Bradenton, the master of ceremonies at the noon luncheon, had his hands full when it came to judging this event. Those who did not have on their dark glasses could hardly see for all the color.

In the men's division Jimmie Monroe and Harry Goulding were a stand-off. The applause could not indicate which was winner so the M.C. called one the most colorful and the other the most unusual.

Mrs. Art Kanzler of Homestead won the most unusual skirt contest with Mrs. Alice Squires giving her a close run for the honors. Mrs. Irene Estey of Winter Haven took the most colorful dress honors. The most unusual shift honors went to Mrs. Charles Schmidt of Lake Worth. The most colorful shift was worn by Mrs. Randall Wells of the Palatka Chapter. There were two ladies dressed as twins who won a special double award. These ladies were Mrs. Ester Levine and Mrs. Jim Fura of Bradenton.

Mrs. Art Kanzler donated the prizes for the ladies who won. She had made four sets of earrings with an hibiscus painted on them.

-oOo-

It is said there are but two kinds of parking these days - illegal and no.